

FIRST ARRIVALS IN BRAINERD HOME COMING

SUCH HONORS FALL
TO MR. AND MRS.
J. LARSON FRIDAY

CAME ALL THE WAY FROM PASADENA, TO ATTEND BRAINERD'S SEMI-CENTENNIAL

MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE TAKES AN AIRPLANE PICTURE OF BRAINERD AND VICINITY TODAY

The first old settlers of Brainerd to arrive for this city's grand semi-centennial celebration and home coming were Mr. and Mrs. John Larson of Pasadena, California.

When their friend Peter Stendal wrote them about the festivities of July 3 to 8, Mr. and Mrs. Larson agreed then and there to leave for Brainerd and here they are today, just a month ahead of the jollification. Before making his home in California, Mr. Larson was prominently identified in the business and civic life of the city. He sold his business to Turcotte Brothers, Col. A. J. Halsted, chairman of the reception committee, was right on hand to welcome them to town.

First Fire Brigade
Carl Wright of the parade and pageant committee has stirred up the old fire fighters of Brainerd. It is proposed to have the first fire department in the parade with their old suits and helmets, plus hand carts, etc. Minneapolis people are interested in this phase and the suggestion was made there that the Nott company, from which Brainerd's fire department has bought much hose, would be glad to supply old relics of fire fighting equipment.

Airplane Picture of Brainerd
P. W. Hamilton, Minneapolis Tribune staff photographer, flying with Walter Hallgren, pilot, took an airplane picture of Brainerd which it is expected will soon be reproduced in a Sunday edition of the Minneapolis Tribune.

It will give a wonderful glimpse of Brainerd and let the thousands who are planning on visiting Brainerd July 3 to 8 know in advance what the town looks like and enable them to get their bearings properly.

There have been so many improvements in Brainerd since the days of 1872 that many of Brainerd's old timers will have to rely on the reception committee to take them around and introduce them.

Minneapolis Woodmen
In Minneapolis Sunday Modern Woodmen degree teams were considering coming to Brainerd to take part in the parade and to put on their open air drills. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Weeks and their son Sam are old residents of Brainerd. R. L. Weeks was the best drill captain Brainerd Camp No. 2337 ever had 37 years ago. His interest in woodcraft has never failed.

Sam Weeks is captain of Minneapolis Camp, No. 445, drill team. This is the oldest camp in the Mill City, and the team won a prize in the national drill contest in St. Louis. His team expects to make the trip to Brainerd in automobiles. Sam Weeks is now employed by the Hennepin Hardware company.

Col. C. D. Johnson
Col. C. D. Johnson will soon have the honor of being a shining light at two home comings. He was born in Mankato and made a speech there at their celebration and was placed in the same row with Olive Fremstad and other noted sons and daughters of Mankato.

When the colonel left Mankato he came to a good town, Brainerd. The colonel is busy preparing a speech just loaded with wit and humor.

Distance means nothing to a railroad man or his family. Northern Pacific men and their families are coming from Tacoma, Wash. At Tacoma there is a Sunday afternoon coffee club composed of 25 ladies, all former residents of Brainerd, and the club, between cups of coffee last week, just decided to have a large representation at the Brainerd home coming. Incidentally the ladies will take along their husbands and the rest of the family.

Every day of the celebration will

PROSECUTION OF WAR FRAUD CASES
IS STARTED TODAYWARRANT IS ISSUED FOR HEAD OF FIRM DISPOSING OF SURPLUS LUMBER

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 5.—The war fraud prosecution is well under way today. A warrant issued by United States Commissioner Hitt and expected to be served today on J. L. Phillips, chairman of the republican state committee of Georgia. It is said to result from war contracts of Phillips for disposal of a large quantity of surplus lumber.

In his speech to the house recently urging action on the war fraud cases, Representative Woodruff, of Michigan, charged that the firm of Phillips and Stevens still owed the government $1,850,000 under the contracts for disposing of the lumber.

IOWA VOTERS
GO TO POLLS TO SELECT SENATOR

(By United Press.)
Des Moines, June 5.—Iowa voters go to the polls today to select candidates for the fall elections. In view of the progressive gains, the old-guard Republicans have been making particular efforts in Iowa to hold the regulars in line for administration policies.

There are now six candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination for the seat now filled by appointment by Charles A. Rawson, who took Senator Kenyon's place when the latter went on the federal bench. They are:

Representative Burton Sweet, former Representative Charles E. Pickett, State Senator Leslie Francis, Col. Claude Stanley, Clifford Thorne, former Iowa railroad commissioner, and Smith Brockhart, who two years ago was a candidate against Senator Cummins.

Sweet is being touted by his friends as the "administration candidate." Pickett and Francis are in the race, according to progressive leaders here, merely to help along the plan of old guard chiefs.

Brookhart is an advanced progressive. He and Thorne were political friends.

Brookhart entered the race first, Thorne got in a few weeks ago, resigning as counsel for a farmer's organization to make the race. Under Iowa law, a candidate must receive 35 per cent of the vote cast to be legally nominated. With five candidates in the field, it is obviously difficult for any one to get a large proportion of the vote unless he has a strong organization.

If no candidate gets the 35 per cent, the choice of a nominee is to be made by a state convention. That is what the old guard hopes for. By keeping all six in the race, and having Thorne divide Brookhart's support among progressives, they expect to throw the senatorship into convention, where their choice can more easily be selected.

Heavy Vote Reported
Des Moines, Iowa, June 5.—A heavy early vote reported through Iowa today in the primary election to choose a full slate of congressional candidates. The contest for the republican nomination for United States senator resulted in an unusual large number going to the polls. A vote of 350,000 was forecast in the contest for the republican senatorial nomination for the seat vacated by Kenyon.

MORE WOMEN SEEK
HIGH POLITICAL OFFICES
THAN EVER

FOUR ARE CANDIDATES FOR U. S. SENATOR AND 20 FOR CONGRESS AND 2 FOR GOVERNOR

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 5.—More women will seek high political offices in the elections this fall than ever before in the history of the nation, a survey made by the national woman's party shows.

Already reports have been received that four women are candidates for the senate, 20 for the house and two for governors of states.

In addition to the women candidates for congressional and gubernatorial offices there are scores of "the newly enfranchised voters" in the race for minor offices.

Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, the only woman member of congress, believes she will have "considerable company" in the next congress. She thinks probably half a dozen women will be elected to the house.

Although the national woman's party is vitally interested in the success of the women candidates, it has decided not to campaign for them as an organization. In other words, it will not seek the election of women simply because they are women. "We are not a political party in the sense of having a political ticket or party of our own," said Alice Paul, head of the party. "We merely hold to the policy of acting as a balance of power group to secure action for the party in power."

MISS BEALE, SLAYER OF LOVER, HOVERS BETWEEN
LIFE AND DEATH

(By United Press.)
Kansas City, Mo., June 5.—Marie L. Beale, who killed Frank W. Anderson, "perfect lover," and then attempted suicide, hovered unrepentant between life and death today and prayed to die.

Simultaneously, police were checking the identity of women who mysteriously viewed Anderson's body at the undertaker's and another who shrieked over the phone when told of the tragedy. They were also probing a report from Dayton that Miss Beale as well as Anderson was married and mother of a 4-year-old child.

Murder charges against Miss Beale will be held up until physicians determine whether she will live.

The girl who imitated "Thurvia, maid of Mars," and slew her "lover captor," was reported as in a highly nervous state today.

Wife Goes Into Hiding

Indianapolis, June 5.—Mrs. Opal Anderson, wife of the "perfect lover," shot to death in Kansas City by Marie L. Beale, was in hiding in Indianapolis today.

The widow collapsed when she read in the newspapers of her husband's tragic death. At that time she was staying at the home of her half brother here. Soon after reading of the murder, the woman packed up her few belongings and left broken hearted.

STATE TO CONCLUDE CASE AGAINST GOV.
SMALL THIS WEEK

(By United Press.)
Waukegon, Ill., June 5.—The state this week will conclude evidence against Len Small, the prosecution said today.

According to C. C. LaForge, chief counsel for Small, charged with conspiracy to embezzle state funds, it will take the defense three weeks to present witnesses. The testimony this week, the states attorney claimed, will link Small up more closely with the transactions with Edward and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park bankers. Leslie Small, newspaper publisher and son of Governor Small, has been called by the state as a witness.

MAN BEATS AGED MOTHER TO DEATH
WITH A HAMMER

(By United Press.)
Portland, Ore., June 5.—Mrs. Suzanna Wier, aged 76, was beat to death with a hammer at her home here early today. Her son, Walter, 34, was arrested and charged with murder.

Neighbors told of seeing the son run from the house soon after the tragedy screaming, "I killed her, I killed her, I killed her." He then attempted suicide but was seized by persons who had rushed toward the house, and was locked in a nearby storeroom.

VALENTINO IS FREED
OF BIGAMY CHARGECOURT HELD NO PROOF OF CO-
HABITATION HAD BEEN MADE;
LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

(By United Press.)
Los Angeles, June 5.—Rudolph Valentino walked from Justice Hanby's court room today back into the heart of the nation's film world, freed from the charge of bigamy.

Justice Hanby in a decision dismissed the case against Valentino following his marriage to Winifred Hudnut, declaring no proof of co-habitation in this state had been found and that it would be impossible to secure a conviction from a superior court.

The court held the opinion that the section of the penal code under which the case was brought is unconstitutional and should be amended.

The decision is believed to sustain the legality of hundreds of marriages which the district attorney's office had not upheld because they were made under circumstances similar to the Valentino-Hudnut marriage. Valentino had been divorced previously, but had not waited a full year after the separation to remarry, as the law requires.

Charging that the merger when consummated will violate the anti-trust law and "this would be a dangerous tendency undoubtedly to destroy competition," the commission has formally complained against the two companies.

As to the Midvale-Inland-Republic merger, the commission stated this probable combination will be thoroughly investigated. This proposed merger, the commission said, has not yet reached a point where it can be charged that it violates the anti-trust laws.

BAD FOREST FIRES
SWEEP COOK COUNTYESTIMATED 225 MEN WERE FIGHTING
FLAMES TO PREVENT DISASTER

(By United Press.)
Duluth, June 5.—Eleven widely scattered forest fires between here and Grand Marais today employed the efforts of practically every man in Cook county to prevent disaster. H. G. Weber, supervisor of the state forest service estimated 225 men were working on fires along the north shore highway, the most extensive of which is in Manitou valley.

A bad fire threatened the village of Cramer, advancing on a five mile front. Fires were believed under control early today near Cramer. Another fire burned over 1500 acres north of Beaver Bay.

Spreading of fire at this season is due to the backward spring on the north shore and to the fact that hundreds of balsam trees are dying out and falling, according to State Forester W. T. Cox. Balsam trees have been dying and falling for the last three years, he said.

The fires are started by trout fishermen who camp in the dense timber along the stream, it is believed. The forest service are posting warnings in a campaign against carelessness. Forest fires in the vicinity of Warroad on Lake of the Woods were reported under control today.

(By United Press.)
Belfast, June 5.—Irish republican insurgent troops are retiring from Ulster today.

Thirty republicans are reported to have been killed in the battle for Pettigo, taken by British troops late yesterday.

A British staff officer who entered the border town furnished the latest details of the affair. He said he gave the insurgents 15 minutes to evacuate the town. Some retired but about one hundred remained.

When the time expired the British entered the town in face of machine gun fire whereupon the artillery on the north was called into action. A British battery fired one eight pounder over the town which caught fleeing republicans killing several.

Only four additional shells were fired, these bursting in the rear of Pettigo causing a panic in the rear of the retiring troops. Casualty lists have not as yet been completed.

British troops today consolidated their forces and prepared for further action against the invading Sinn Feiners.

Belfast's week-end victims numbered 22, of which three were killed and 19 seriously wounded.

PLAN TO MAKE
BELLEAU MEMORIAL

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 5.—A plan to begin the rebuilding of the French village of Belleau as a permanent memorial to the American dead of the A. E. F. through contributions of 25 cents from all citizens on June 6, tomorrow, was launched here today by the Belleau Wood Memorial association.

June 6 will be the fourth anniversary of the second division's successful entry into Belleau Wood, now officially called Bois de la Brigade de Marine. The historic wood was completely cleared of Germans in 31 days, but at a cost of 9,063 American casualties.

Vice President Calvin Coolidge is chairman of the association's national committee, the honorary president of the organization is Secretary of War John W. Weeks, and the 160 officers and committeemen include Marshal Foch, James M. Beck, Secretary Denby, Speaker Gillet, Newton D. Baker, Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Willard Saulsbury, and a number of senators and representatives.

"All we ask is that everybody who is at all interested in erecting a useful memorial to our historic dead of the A. E. F. send 25 cents in stamps or any other form to our headquarters at 220 Mills Building, Washington, D. C.," said Mrs. Frazer, the national president.

"According to the official estimates of the French government it will cost $300,000 to rebuild the village of Belleau, which was completely destroyed as a military necessity by the artillery of the 26th (New England division). The infantry and Marines of the 2nd division cleared Belleau Wood and the 26th took the town on July 18, the morning of the great allied counter attack which started the enemy retreat, ending only on Armistice day.

"There are 2,438 Americans in the national Aisne-Marne cemetery at Belleau representing every state in the Union, the District of Columbia and Panama.

Robert Baker, Aged 84, Claims to Be the World's Champion Papa

(By United Press.)
Harlan, Kan., June 5.—Robert Baker, 84, today claimed to be the world's champion papa.

Rattling along his milk route in his bus, he told consumers his 33rd child would not interfere with his daily milk delivery.

"Oh, yes, Mrs. Baker is getting along nicely," he said. "Little Bobby's face is just as red as those of his 32 brothers and sisters and his yell is louder." Bobby is the eighth child born to Mr. and Mrs. Baker within the last 12 years. The other 25 children were born of six other wives.

Mrs. Baker the seventh is 35 years old.

"And I really am no older than she except in years," Baker said. "If I didn't feel like 35 years old we wouldn't be so happy together."

The other 25 children are all "farmers" out Baker said "except those that have farms of their own."

The Phrase "All Aboard."
The origin of the phrase "Going on board" can be traced back to the Icelandic, and it was probably introduced into Anglo-Saxon by Vikings. In the original tongue board was understood to mean the side of a ship.

YES, WE DELIVER

Paved Streets, Parks, Schools, the Court House

Fifty years ago, Brainerd was a village in the pine forest. It had none of these public improvements. As they were needed, the city issued bonds and warrants to raise the money to build them. These securities were excellent investments for bank deposits.

The people were enterprising and thrifty. They created wealth and built up bank deposits. Thus the First National Bank has always been able to subscribe liberally to city improvement projects.

SPRING HATS IN THE BIG SHOPS

New York Milliners Now Making Appeal to Women to Buy Gay Headgear.

NEITHER SMALL NOR LARGE

Mode Keeps to Decided Middle Distance, Making Style Very Becoming to Average Face; Worn Straight Over Eyes.

If you want to see a fresh promise of spring and all the clothes that season brings with it, then walk on Fifth avenue and look at the bright new hats in the windows, advises a fashion writer in the New York Times. They at least are all ready and waiting for warmer days to come; and, in fact, they are even begging prettily to be worn right now. Many of them are so happily constructed that their materials seem to say: "Here is something more suitable for this time of year than the hat you have on." Now, you know, that is the most fatal sort of temptation. For who does not secretly long for a new hat at this season of the year?

The next most inspirational thing to do is to watch the models as they try on these brilliant new creations and see just exactly how they should be worn. For it is the posing of a hat, after all, that gives it its true style; without its proper and destined angle it amounts to nothing; one must not only have courage and coin enough to buy new things in headgear, but one must then understand how to wear them effectively if the best appearance in the world is to be the outcome.

Almost Obscure the Eyes. The new hats set straight over the eyes, but they manage almost to obscure the eyes nevertheless. At one time they contented themselves with obliterating from sight the right eye, but there is nothing of that partiality shown now. The newer hats push down over both eyes, regardless of whether they are right or left, and to the discretion of the wearer is left the decision of whether she shall be allowed to see her way clearly before her or not.

After they have attended to this little duty, which is a cast-iron ruling of the season, then the hats or turbans or toques or whatever they may be, go forth upon various ways of their own. Really they seem to be allowed the greatest amount of latitude about the shapes in which they shall appear. They turn away from the face, many of them. It is a sharp, sure turning, but it does not stop at that. Having achieved the upward spread that it is sure to have, it then spreads on to the sides—down, or out, or drooping at the back. In some way or other the brim of the most modern of hats creates a sweep that is conspicuously appropriate.

The hats are neither small nor large, but most of them, just now, keep to a decided middle distance, making them vastly becoming to the average face. When they have any tendency to smallness, then their trimming in some way draws out the line and gives the silhouette of the hat a broader, more expensive appearance. There seems to be none of those ultra-tight little affairs which were popular for so long. They have something added always to give them more form and shape than those which hugged the head so tightly.

The Matter of Trimmings. It is in the matter of trimmings, perhaps, where the new hats excel and show their freshness. There is not much trimming, mind you—nothing resembling overcrowding—but what there is there is so perfectly arranged and composed with the hat and its shape that it leaves nothing to be desired. While the trimming is in every way conspicuous, it is so rather because of its rarity and individualism than because of its overabundant quantity.

Ribbon, in bows and loops and ends, is one of the favored trimmings for the spring, and it certainly is pleasant to see this being used to so great an extent. Women always find ribbons becoming. They can be twisted and turned and puffed in so many fascinating ways that the hat with ribbon trimming inevitably becomes a flattering thing to wear. Then there is this new craze for molre, which brings with it a molre ribbon to be used on hats. One hat among the newer ones has a brim made entirely of this sort of ribbon, carelessly puffed into the crown to form a softly rolling brim. Over the left ear the brim disappears almost entirely and there two-wired pointed ends of the ribbon stick straight out into the air. The softly folded crown is then made in velvet and the hat is complete.

Another ribbon-trimmed hat shows a large and rolling brim, and is rather broader in proportion to most of the hats now seen. It is made of a lightish brown straw, and then it has a wide taffeta peach-colored ribbon drawn tightly over the facing of the brim toward the front, where at the brim's peak it is tied into a stiff, upward standing bow. It is a most unusual sort of hat and a very interesting one, though it is so decidedly new in character that one must have temerity to wear it as a pattern for the rest of the world to follow.

Use of Grosgrain Ribbon. Grosgrain ribbon is used to make whole, shaped brim turbans. It has so much body that almost anything can be done with it and many of the newer hats will be found to have their starting point in grosgrain, with a little straw to help them out. Some of these hats succeed in looking like miniature airplanes, so winglike are the arrangements of ribbon that float away at one side or the other, or sometimes from both sides, of the closely fitting crown.

Ribbon that is narrow and plaited and formed into various sorts of rosettes is another favorite type of trimming, and, like the grosgrain brims just described, these succeed in making the hat more or less, once they start out to trim it. A yellow hat of straw with quite a Chinese shape to it, pointing up over the eyes, has a series of black plaited rosettes arranged in regular succession around its brim.

Then satin ribbon is used in loops upon loops, drooping down at one side from hats that are stiff and unrelenting in all other directions. It is interesting to see these little, quite borderlike turbans suddenly take it into their heads to show all that squishy ribbon on one side, and, besides giving to the hat a jaunty quality to become the face, the ribbon carries out the design most gracefully.

Repeating the idea from many of the spring frocks, ribbon is again formed into points and semi-circles to trim the rounded brims of some of the hats. For instance, round the upward turning and round brim of a little red hat there was a row of red ribbon points peeping from behind the brim's edge. This made the hat, for there was no other form of trimming to be seen, and, while the ribbon was exactly the same tone as the straw of the hat, it had a decidedly decorative quality about it and gave the smartest sort of a look to the little novelty.

Other Styles of Hats. A hat made of black satin had black satin ribbon drawn over its crown into two stiff bows, which jutted out at the right side. And another hat of the same foundation material had a stiff bow of black ribbon set across the back, so that its sweep showed from the front as an outline for that portion of the silhouette.

Beards are having a great opportunity as far as the newer spring hats are concerned. There is nothing obvious or at all passe about the way in which they are handled, but the rule seems to be that, if originality comes into the game at all, beads and dangles and spangles are quite the nicest thing to use. For instance, most of the beads used are large and ornamental and clear as crystal, whether they are in colors or in pure white. There are loops of them over the ears or across the front of the hat or across the back, and often these loops hang down and away from the hat, so that they create the impression of chains about the neck rather than about the hat.

LIEUT. COLONEL J. R. MUSGRAVE HERE

Visits Brainerd Tuesday to Stir Up Interest in Citizens Military Training Camp

HEADQUARTERS AT RANSFORD

Reserve Officers Residing in Brainerd are Lieuts. Nelson, Halliday and Lees

In a letter to Captain George I. Badeaux, Lieutenant-Colonel J. R. Musgrave of the Coast Artillery Corps, stated he would be in Brainerd at the Ransford hotel Tuesday to stir up interest in the Citizens Military Training Camp.

He will arrive at 12:05 a. m. Tuesday from Duluth and remain in the city until Tuesday afternoon when he leaves for Bemidji. During his visit he would like to meet all the officers of the reserve corps, those eligible for appointment, and all other service men irrespective of grade; also, the young men interested in attending the Citizens Military Training Camp.

These reserve officers, according to his memoranda, reside in Brainerd: Lieut. (Dr.) Nelson 211 Citizens State bank bldg.; Lieut. Halliday 121 Third avenue N. E.; Lieut. Lees of Brainerd.

be a big day. The only way to decide which will be the biggest day is for the visitor to stay all week.

Two big features for "Old Settlers Day" will be an automobile tour of Brainerd and vicinity. There are now listed in Brainerd 750 cars and if every car owner is public spirited, the transportation problem will be solved that day. At the evening conference at the theatre, old timers will recount stories of the old days.

It is almost an assured fact that an Old Settlers organization will be formed which will hold regular meetings in Brainerd hereafter.

Henry I. Cohen's committee for this day is grouping alphabetically names of all former residents so as to avoid duplication.

If every church, lodge, union and other association would have its secretary scan its lists of membership, many more names would be secured. This applies also to shops, business houses, etc. Send in the names to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and invitations will be promptly mailed out. Rev. J. E. Cadwell of Peoples Congregational church is compiling a list of his church embracing former residents and is submitting it to the committee.

Children's Day

The Brainerd Musical club meets this week to take steps to assist Chairman W. H. Cleary in considering the program for "Children's Day."

Brainerd has the best crop of babies in the United States and Mr. Cleary is assured that a parade staged like Atlantic City annually has on its board walk will be a revelation to visitors. If it's to be a whole hearted children's day it is only right to start by giving each stage of childhood a show.

Housing Problem

R. R. Wise has the biggest job of the whole celebration on his hands. He's got to find rooms enough to house the throng of visitors, to tabulate the rooms, scale of rent asked, accommodations offered, etc.

That is a committee which will be functioning from now to the end of the celebration.

Compiling lists of rooms for Woodmen and Royal Neighbors July 7 is the Modern Woodmen Camp committee headed by their camp clerks, C. Bruhn and J. J. Roney.

Parade Committee

The parade committee meets again Monday night. One of the finest industrial floats will be "The Coming of the Railroads". It will show in graphic manner this phase in the development of Brainerd.

World War ex-service men expect to reproduce a dug-out and barb wire entanglements on the front. It will be so realistic it will have everything except the shooting. Carl Wright is chairman of this committee.

1,000 Invitations Mailed Out

On Monday Ingolf Dillan reported the mailing out of 1,000 invitations addressed to former residents of Brainerd. This is just the starter for a big list, which is daily receiving accumulations which are being checked and tabulated.

New Committees

New committees are Mrs. E. O. Webb, chairman of information and registration; Mayor F. E. Little, chairman of public safety.

Parade Plans

Floats now promised for the parade number 40. The parade committee meets at 7:30 o'clock this Monday evening and reports will be made on the petitions circulated today to get the business houses of the city interested in having floats in the parade.

Opportunities for Bakers

Dunwoody Institute, an endowed institution, offers free training to young men and young women of the State of Minnesota for the baking and milling industries. Those from outside the State are charged tuition. Under the will of the founder it is free to residents of the state. Ambitious young persons from any place in the State of Minnesota thus have a chance to get free of charge instruction for special training in bread making, in sweet goods work, and in baking and milling chemistry.

The opportunities in the field for especially trained persons are large. Everywhere bakers and millers are looking for people with special knowledge and experience in the baking of bread and of sweet goods, or the milling of cereals. It affords a wonderful opportunity for graduates of high schools to get special preparation for a life work where the opportunities for the capable and ambitious are almost unlimited, and where those with special experience in a practical way in bake shops and mills and laboratories will find the chance to double their assets by adding technical knowledge to that which they already possess. In addition to practical processes based on scientific knowledge, the student will also be given an opportunity in connection with the various courses to add to his equipment, information with regard to all such things as applied chemistry, the business side of the baking industry, shop mechanics, bread judging, cost records and accounts and cost estimating, experi-

ARMY INQUIRY BOARD STARTS INVESTIGATION OF SLAYING OF BECK

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 5.—The army board of inquiry today began a further investigation into the slaying of Lieut. Col. Paul Ward Beck, idol of the air service, by Judge Jean P. Day, of this city. Closed sessions were held by the board.

Stop Hiccoughs.

"There is, I believe, only one specific for hiccoughs," says an eminent physician, "and that is a small dose of vinegar, sweetened with as much sugar as it will absorb. I have used this remedy when the annoyance has passed almost into the dangerous stage, and never knew a case which one dose would not relieve and two cure."

All Patriot Had to Give. The flag which accompanied Garibaldi in all his expeditions, has been discovered in the chapel of the Villa Arson of Nice, which belongs to Count Raymond de Castellane. It is stated that Garibaldi stood godfather to the little daughter of his friend, Comendatore Arson de Saint-Joseph, and appeared at his baptism with his flag, which he presented with the words, "This is all a soldier can give." Count Raymond presented the flag to the M. sena museum.

"FLU" LEAVES PATIENT WEAK AND NERVELESS

Regains Strength After Almost Giving Up Hopes of Recovery

Spanish Influenza or "Flu" as this dread disease is now generally called, almost invariably leaves the sufferer weak, nervous, discouraged and depressed. As a matter of fact, some people never fully recover from the effects of "Flu" simply because they do not know there are remedies that will bring back their health and strength.

In a letter, Mrs. Jonas Myers, R. F. D. No. 1, Kelly's Station, Pa., tells how she counteracted the effects of a severe attack of "Flu" after trying various remedies. She says:

"I never took any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I had the 'Flu' and after I got over it, was so weak and nervous, I could hardly get around. I tried different medicines but was no better when I quit using them than before I started. A friend sent me one of your booklets and I read of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines. I may say that I had given up all hope of ever getting better, but three boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills made me feel like a new person. I feel now as if life was worth living once more, and am recommending Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines to everyone I know."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations. —Advertisement. 4

FRENCH PROPAGANDISTS ACTIVE

IT HAS been reported for some time past that a group of French interests, allied with certain importing interests in this country, have been propagandizing against the Republican tariff bill now pending in Congress. These interests, as is well known, are endeavoring to kill the bill.

The French, however, are not alone in this. The Italian, German, British, Japanese and other exporting countries have hooked up with American importers with the same idea in mind. But the American exporters are compelled to pay high tariff rates to get into the French market. The rates in their schedules are based on the French act of 1910 revised to December, 1921, and duly computed at par in American money are unusually high even for a protective tariff.

It is of course difficult to make a comparison of the French tariff rates with our own, but it is quite apparent that the French nation is not overcome with the fraternal spirit of trade advocated by our own importers to a point which will do damage to French production.

In view of these facts it would seem that the French propagandists against the American tariff bill are not coming into our court with clean hands, assuming that they and their importing allies are correct in their assertion that a nation which seeks to protect its own industries is engaged in dirty work. The best thing the propagandists can do is to go home and attend to their own affairs and let us handle importers in a just fashion.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE FIGURES

ACCORDING to Treasury reports made public recently, April 30th showed that ordinary Government expenditures for the ten months of the current year fell off at the rate of $150,000,000 a month, or about $1,500,000,000 in all, compared with the corresponding period of last year, while public debt disbursements declined over a billion dollars.

For the ten months named the ordinary expenditures aggregated $2,820,000,000, compared with $4,278,000,000 a year ago. At this rate they would total for the entire fiscal year something like $3,384,000,000, compared with $6,771,000,000 for 1921.

The interest paid on the public debt was the largest item of ordinary expenditure, amounting to $790,000,000, while the redemption of Treasury certificates of indebtedness accounted for $2,914,000,000 of public debt disbursements. The total of public debt disbursements for the ten months was $5,493,000,000. The Treasury retired $1,316,000,000 of Victory notes since July 1, 1921, compared with $177,000,000 retired during the same period of last year.

Notwithstanding this remarkably good financial showing, it is not at all likely that the Democratic campaign orators will feature these achievements of the Republican administration in the Congressional campaign this fall. It would hardly be expected to get votes for the Democratic candidates.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN EUROPE

ANY further loans made to Europe from private sources in this country, in the opinion of Secretary Hoover, should be for re-productive purposes. "All loans not so employed are a destruction of the capital," he says. "Furnishing raw materials, construction of transportation facilities, public utilities, factories and reproduction throughout the world, is a use for American capital that blesses both borrower and the lender." Almost every foreign loan offered in this country heretofore was for the purpose of refunding European war debts. There have been a few exceptions, but the loans now in prospect are said to be for constructive purposes.

American capital can find legitimate employment in Europe in the sphere outlined by Mr. Hoover. Loans of that character are investments that completely meet the objections of those who insist that no further financial aid be extended to Europe by way of filling out national budgets. American business men have already found an outlet for their surplus capital in European enterprises. Not only are the people of those countries given employment in the factories built by American capital, but the debts owed to this country find a means of liquidation through returns to the American owner on his investment.

WHY DRAW SEX LINE?

WHY a "Women's Party?" To organize such a political party naturally presupposes a men's party, but the latter organization has not been formed and never will be. The issues of the leading political parties have always been diversified enough to attract every male voter. Practically all of the women voters have also been satisfied with the platforms of one or the other of the major parties. Both stand ready to welcome within their ranks all ages, sexes and conditions of voters, and there is not now, and never was, any sound reason for drawing the sex line in politics.

FACES CHARGES OF WRITING PRESIDENT ABOUT ARMY ABUSES

Camp Dix, N. J., June 5.—While his wife lies ill expecting a baby, Major Malcolm Wheeler Nicolson must face court today charged with going over the heads of his superiors and writing to the president about alleged abuses in the regular army.

Major Nicolson was refused permission to go to his wife's bedside. A message from Mrs. Nicolson, who is in Boston, read:

"Don't worry about me. Stay there and make a strong fight for the right, and you may win," was received by him today.

MINERS NOT LIABLE FOR DAMAGED MINES DURING STRIKE RIOT

SUPREME COURT REVERSES DECISION OF ARK. COURT HOLDING MINERS RESPONSIBLE

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 5.—Striking coal miners won a tremendous victory today when the supreme court held that the United Mine Workers need not pay damages amounting to more than $600,000 in the Arkansas coal mines to owners as a result of the strike riot in Arkansas fields in 1914.

The court reversed the decision of the Arkansas court holding that the officers of the mine workers, by inciting violence during the strike, had caused destruction of property, and thus were guilty of restraining interstate commerce and violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

LABOR FEDERATION MOBILIZES FORCES TO FIGHT WAGE CUTS

PLANS ARE MADE TO MAKE PROPOSED WAGE CUTS BIG ISSUE IN CONVENTION

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 5.—The American Federation of Labor mobilized its forces today for the big fight against wage cuts. With threats of rail strikes in the air on the eve of the Cincinnati conference of 16 railroad brotherhood unions, Samuel Gompers, big chief, left to attend the meeting.

Preparations are being made to make the new wage cut issue the big point in the American Federation convention, which opens in Cincinnati a week from today. There the matter will be threshed out and the decision to strike or not to strike will be made, it is said.

The brotherhood conference probably will extend over into the convention and the tentative decisions of the former will be sanctioned as the combined principles of all laborers in America, it is believed.

At the meeting of the 16 brotherhoods reports will be had on all rail workers except those actually employed on trains. Railway clerks, shop men, station agents, telegraphers, freight handlers, switchmen, all maintenance of way men, all 5,000,000 workers will be reported.

Tire Prices Now at Lowest Point

"So far as tires are concerned, the motorist is in clover these days," was the comment of John F. Woodhead, dealer in United States tires. "There never was a time when prices were so low. In the big slump in business that prevailed throughout the country about ten years ago prices got down nearly as low as they are today but you want to remember that the tires of ten years ago were nowhere near as good as the tires of today. When you buy a standard tire at the rock-bottom prices of today you are getting about twice the value you used to get."

"It never pays to buy a tire that is not strictly high grade and it is especially poor judgment to do so today when the prices of the good ones are so low. No one knows how long these low prices are going to last, but for the moment at least car owners have the advantage of a price decline that is unprecedented."

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

While Frank Zwack was driving to Gull lake Saturday night, a huge owl attracted by the glare of the headlights, dashed at the car, missed Zwack and landed on Phil Beaudreau, sitting in the rear seat beside Elmer Johnson. Beaudreau did not know what hit him and had to put up a great fight to subdue and kill the enraged bird, which went at him with its talons and sought to tear out his eyes. William Demmers, sitting beside the driver, did not know what had attacked Beaudreau and sought to calm him by holding him down. The owl was brought to Brainerd and will be stuffed.

INDIAN HEAVEN FOR FOLEY

Posten on Mound for Brainerd With Gaskill at the Receiving End of the Battery

Foley defeated Brainerd 9 to 3 at their home grounds in Foley. The Foleyites drummed up an Indian pitcher named Chase and the redskin had the curves all right to put over the palte. A Scandinavian named Johnson was the Indian's catcher and it made a hard combination to beat.

Brainerd had Posten on the mound and he did the best he could. Gaskill was on the receiving end.

Sunday seemed to be the official opening of the bathing season. There was no set formality about it, the kids just concluded the water was fine and plunged in.

From Brainerd's lake region to the Mill City and Capitol City summer resorts one saw the bathers. And the automobiles were out in force. With a temperature ranging at 80 and above, flat tires were in evidence in various places.

As one motored northward from Minneapolis Sunday night, one saw a steady stream of automobiles homeward bound to the Mill City, which line stretched from Elk River to Minneapolis.

On Saturday night twenty traffic cops were out and high speed has been suppressed on the cement highway.

CAUSE and EFFECT

Chiropractic goes several links farther back in the chain of cause and effect. While the germ theorist stops at the susceptibility of the patient, the chiropractor says that the susceptibility is a result of a lack of vital power or mental impulses, due to pressure on a nerve caused by a misaligned vertebra; and that when the vertebra is adjusted, the normal powers will again flow over the nerve, the effected will again become normal and the disease germs and every other incidental effect will disappear.

SINGER SHOPS are local and readily available for your convenience as free schools of instruction in use of your machine, for supply of needles, oil, etc., and for expert hemstitching to order.

The owner of a SINGER is assured of a service impossible to catalog houses, department stores or electrical dealers.

Ask the Woman who owns one
It has oscillating sewing hook mechanism with the round bobbin, similar to that of the well-known "Singer 66". A trial of its knee-lever control will quickly convince you as to its great convenience. Only a slight pressure against the knee-lever is necessary to start the machine and as you increase the pressure the machine gains speed. Any speed is readily obtained—from the slowest up to 800 stitches a minute. Think what the high speed of this machine means when you have a lot of sewing to do and want to finish it quickly. It costs little to operate—four hours of continuous sewing for one cent.

"Serenade"

Miriam Cooper

against unwelcome suitors, is used as the romantic setting for many of the love scenes of "Serenade," the R. A. Walsh production, with Miriam Cooper and George Walsh, for Associated First National release.

"Turn to the Right" at Lyceum

"Turn to the Right" the Rex Ingram production showing at the Lyceum Theatre, tonight and Tuesday is making a bigger fortune for its producers than it made as a stage play; and as a stage success it broke modern records. Part of this success is attributed to the title.

A Scene from TURN TO THE RIGHT

When John E. Hazzard first presented to Winchell Smith and John Golden the scenario of his play based upon the regeneration of two young crooks through the efforts of a saintly old woman who was famous alike for her piety and her peach jam, he called it "Like Mother Made." By the time Mr. Smith author of "The Boomerang," "The Fortune Hunter" and "Lightnin'" had rewritten the play, it was decided that another title would be better, but what title neither authors Mr. Golden, Mr. Smith's partner, could decide upon.

The final discussion on this absorbing subject was held at Mr. Smith's home in Connecticut, and a silent but much interested listener to the arguments was Mrs. Smith, the wife of the famous dramatist. At least twenty different names were suggested by one and another of the three men, and finally for sheer lack of breath the discussion ceased suddenly. Then it was that Mrs. Smith, who had not spoken a word handed to her husband a slip of paper on which were written four words.

Smith looked at the paper, first idly, then with sudden interest. With a gasp he handed it to his partner, Golden. Golden's face wreathed in smiles of appreciation, and he handed it to Hazzard. The latter threw up his hands in joyful surrender, and with one accord the three men rose and bowed to the charming young woman who had solved all their difficulties. The slip of paper read, "Turn to the Right" an absolutely ideal title for a play that, with all its humor and its exciting situations, preaches the most powerful sermon ever delivered over the footlights for those who stand at the cross-roads of life wavering between the primrose path and the narrow way that leads to real happiness.

"Smilin' Through"

With the public now out "shopping" for its screen entertainment and willing to accept only the best, progressive improvement in the film industry is being made and the outlook is very promising, according to Norma Talmadge, who points to the recent organization of the Independent Screen Artists' Guild in California as one of the most significant developments of cinema history.

Miss Talmadge is one of the founders of the Guild, the announced object of which is the establishment of direct relations between the studios and the theatres of the country, with the idea of cutting middleman costs and thereby making it possible for producers to put money into better pictures.

Among the most pretentious of Guild productions is Norma Talmadge's "Smilin' Through," the first National attraction directed by Sidney Franklin and coming to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Beyond the slightest shadow of doubt the public have indicated very plainly that they are interested solely in good pictures," Miss Talmadge says. "Taste has improved to such a degree that the poor picture doesn't stand the slightest chance. The public, in fact, is sick and tired of cheap pictures."

NOTORIOUS SLACKER
SEEKS HIS FREEDOM

(By United Press.)

Topeka, Kan., June 5—Erwin Rudolph Bergdoll, brother of the "arch slacker," today renewed his fight for freedom from the Leavenworth federal prison.

He filed application for writ of habeas corpus in federal court here. He was also convicted for attempt to evade the draft.

Miss Helen Gibson will appear in person at the New Park Sunday only and will give a talk on conditions in any of the other stars.

PUZZLES MEN OF LEARNING

Whether Petrified Sole of Shoe Is a Fossil or Freak of Nature, Is Question.

What appears to be the petrified sole of a carefully made shoe has been submitted by John T. Reid, a mining engineer of Lovelock, Nev., to Dr. James F. Kemp, professor of geology at Columbia university, and to Dr. William D. Matthews, paleontologist of the American Museum of Natural History.

If it is what it looks like, it is proof that human beings were walking about in shoes of finer workmanship than are made today on this continent, between 10,000,000 and 300,000,000 years ago, the New York Times states. The seeming fossil was found in blue limestone of the Triassic period on a summit in the southern extremity of the Humboldt mountain range in Nevada. Both Doctor Matthews and Doctor Kemp said that the object was the most surprising imitation by nature of the workmanship of man which had ever come to their attention, but that it was absolutely impossible that it could be a genuine fossil because the evidence was overwhelming that the career of human beings on earth was not over half a million years, whereas the Triassic rock of which the neatly sculptured sole is made more ancient.

It would fit nicely a boy of ten or twelve years. The edges are as smooth as if freshly cut. But the surprising part of it is what seems to be a double line of stitches, one near the outside edge of the sole and the other about a third of an inch inside the first. The "leather" is thicker inside the inner welting and appears to be slightly beveled so that at the margin, half an inch wide, which runs outside, the sole is something like an eighth of an inch thick.

The symmetry is maintained perfectly throughout. The perfect lines pursued by the welting and the appearance of hundreds of minute holes through which the sole was sewed to the shoe are the things which make the object such an extraordinary freak in the eyes of the scientists who examined it.

Proper Way to Display Flag.

When the American flag is hung as a banner the union, or field of stars, should be in the upper left hand corner. When hung with stripes perpendicular the union should be in the right-hand corner. When hung from a rope stretched from building to building across the street, on streets running north and south, the union should fly to the east, on streets running east and west, the union should fly to the north. When hung from a rope stretched from the house to a tree in the yard the union should fly toward the street.

BROTHERS IN COMMON CAUSE

Matter of Rank of No Consequence in Belgians' War on the Hated Invader.

When Brussels was under the yoke of the invaders a notable Belgian one day went to the convent of the Jesuits and asked secretly if it were not possible to get a letter forwarded to his son, a defender of the Yser.

"That's extremely difficult," they told him. "We are spied upon. The Germans are more vigilant than ever. Still, we'll see."

A few days later the father of the soldier saw a workman coming to his house.

"I am sent by the Jesuits," he said to him. "I'll try to cross the lines. Give me your letter."

"Here it is. Take this for your trouble, and let's go to the cafe and drink to the success of your mission."

"With pleasure."

A week later the workman came again. He brought the soldier's reply. Delighted, the Belgian kissed him, and the two again went to the cafe to drink, this time to victory. After which the Belgian hastened to the Jesuit Fathers to thank them.

"I'd like to see the superior," he said.

"The superior? Why, he was in your house this morning."

"This morning?"

"Yes, this morning. He was the workman who carried your letter to Fumess."—New York Tribune.

FINALLY REACHED THE TOP

Result of Years of Striving on the Part of Bottom of the Strawberry Box.

St. Peter was on his way down to the gates to set them ajar for the day for some people and to slide the bar in place for others. As he passed along the street he spied an object so small, so tiny, so microscopical in appearance that he stopped to gaze on him and inquire how he had come on high without passing the gate in the usual way.

"How did you come to get so high as this?"

"Just naturally. For years and years I've been getting higher and higher, every year, closer to the top all the time, and now I'm this high."

"What are you a soul?"

"Not at all. I never had a soul and nobody who ever had anything to do with the making of me ever had a soul."

"Well, I certainly do not understand at all how you could get here."

"I admit that I don't exactly belong in any such place as this, but when you know who and what I am you will easily see this, being the highest place I could possibly reach. I simply had to get here in time. I just had to go out of sight so far as the earth is concerned."

"Would you mind telling me who or what you are?"

"I'm the bottom of a strawberry box."

And the spook editor says that if this did not happen it is about due.—San Antonio Light.

Says World Is Too Busy.

Viscount Kato of Japan is not only a nobleman; he is a philosopher. As evidence of this fact listen to a remark attributed to him by a traveler recently returned from Japan: "What's the matter, anyhow, with the world?" the traveler asked in the course of a conversation. "Too many events," said the viscount.

This, we submit, is a rich distillation from oriental thought. Isn't part of the trouble that we are bestirring ourselves too frantically for our own good, and running around in circles, and getting in one another's way, and starting things we can't finish—instead of waiting in patience until Nature re-asserts itself and the world regains its health?—The Nation's Business.

Color Blindness Can Be Overcome.

Late experience has shown that the color blind may be taught to name ordinary colors correctly, although they may not see colors as others do.

A conductor on the Southern railway was discharged for color blindness, when he began to study colored woollens and plants, and in five weeks passed a rigid color examination without a mistake.

Doctor Brawley has overcome the disadvantage of color blindness in other persons by a like course of color study.—Cleveland News-Leader.

New Sense of Flight.

Flying requires the development of a new special sense, the sense of flight. This sense is not inborn; it may be developed, but cannot be created all at once. There are men of splendid physical equipment and intelligence who could never make more than passable aviators. A good aviator should feel entirely at ease in space.

He should be able to recognize at once the slightest trouble with his machine in any one of the three dimensions of space. He should react to the invisible movements of the atmosphere. The capacity to feel or sense conditions in the air and to respond properly with precise muscular contractions comes only through training, but these are based on normal physiological bodily conditions that are not possessed by all men.—Edward C. Schneider, in the April Yale Review.

Repair Shops for Airplanes.

The enormous use of airplanes during the European war has resulted in an extensive use of special motor airplane repair shops.

These portable airplane factories were first used by the French, and are marvels of ingenuity, for, in addition to carrying propellers and wings for airplanes, they are fitted with lathes, drilling machines, forges and in fact, most of the apparatus necessary to completely rebuild an airplane except, of course, the engine.

Fitted with powerful engines these airplane motors can get up a tremendous speed despite their weight, and are quickly on the scene of any airplane smash.

In the roofs of many of these motors, by the way, are windows or openings through which an observer can watch the flight of the airplanes.—Cleveland News-Leader.

BIG SALARIES FOR SOCCERS

Scottish Falkirk Eleven Pays $25,000 for the Transfer of Sidney C. Puddlefoot.

The sensation of soccer football in Great Britain was the Scottish Falkirk eleven paying $25,000 to West Ham United for the transfer of Sidney C. Puddlefoot and Hearts of Midlothian paying only a trifle less for Frank Stringfellow, Portsmouth's goal getter. The transactions are to the kicking style of football enthusiasts what "Babe" Ruth's new salary is to baseball players and fans.

SWIMMING RECORD LOWERED

Britisher Makes 500 Meters in 6:15 2-5, Much Faster Than Time Made by Ross.

The world's swimming record of 6 minutes 55 4-5 seconds for 500 meters, held by Norman Ross, U. S. A., was lowered at Middlesborough, England, recently by J. G. Hatfield, the holder of several British championships, who covered the distance in 6 minutes 15 2-5 seconds. Hatfield was timed by officials of the Amateur Swimming association, and the effort was made in public.

"I didn't hurt a bit," he said, "I was just a bit out of breath. I was just a bit out of breath. I was just a bit out of breath."

Wendell had long, yellow curls and a business query. The pawnbroker who had risen to wealth and had retired was staying at a fashionable hotel. His only worry was that he had fits of absent-mindedness. One night a confurer came to the hotel and went through his performances. Presently he cried out: "Will any gentleman in the audience lend me $10?" "On what?" shouted the ex-pawnbroker.

Bat's Physical Limitation.
A bat cannot rise from a perfectly level surface. These winged mammals are remarkably nimble in their flight when once on the wing and can fly for many hours at a time without rest, but if placed on a floor or flat ground they are utterly unable to use their wings. The only thing a bat can do in such a situation is to shuffle helplessly and doubtless painfully along until it reaches some trifling elevation from which it can throw itself into the air. Then at once it is off like a flash.

Job of Learning Letters in China.
The longest alphabet in any language is that of the Chinese, which contains 214 letters. These, however, are "ideographs," or picture-figures, and have not the slightest significance of our own Roman letters.
